1. Nature of operations and going concern

Canadian Copper Inc. ("Canadian Copper" or "the Company") was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) (the OBCA) on April 8, 2021, as Melius Capital 3 Corp. On July 27, 2021, Melius Capital 3 Corp. changed its name to Melius Metals Corp. On April 12, 2022 the Company's name was changed to Canadian Copper Inc. The Company became a conditionally approved reporting issuer on May 24, 2022 on the Canadian Securities Exchange "CSE" and once approved by the CSE the Company's shares will be listed on the CSE under the ticker "CCI" subject to final approval from the CSE.

The address of the Company's corporate office address is Canadian Venture Building, 82 Richmond Street East, Toronto ON, M5C 1P1.

The principal business of the Company is the identification, evaluation and acquisition of mineral properties in Canada. During the first nine-months ending July 31, 2022 and the initial 206-day period ended October 31, 2021, the Company has been active in investigating the viability of the Company's mineral properties (the "Properties"). The Company has not yet determined whether any of the properties it owns may contain a mineral resource that may eventually be economically recoverable. The economic viability of the Properties will depend on the establishment of ore reserves, the confirmation of the Company's interest in the mineral claims and the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to complete its development and place it into commercial production.

These condensed interim financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will continue its operations for the foreseeable future. During the nine months ended July 31, 2022, the Company has incurred losses of $1,313,862 (period from April 6, 2021 to July 31, 2021 - $459,750) and as at July 31, 2022, has an accumulated deficit of $2,012,749 (October 31, 2021 - $698,887) and working capital of $1,427,143 (October 31, 2021 - $1,328,186). The Company's ability to continue its operations and to realize assets at their carrying values is dependent upon obtaining additional financing or maintaining continued support from its shareholders and generating profitable operations in the future. Management estimates that the cash as at July 31, 2022 will be sufficient to meet the Company's needs for cash during the current year of 2022.

These factors give rise to a material uncertainty which casts significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. These condensed interim financial statements do not include any adjustments to the amounts and classification of assets and liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in business. Such adjustments could be material.

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared coronavirus COVID-19 a global pandemic. This contagious disease outbreak, which has continued to spread, and any related adverse public health developments, has adversely affected workforces, economies, and financial markets globally, potentially leading to an economic downturn. The pandemic could result in delays in the course of business, including potential delays to its exploration efforts/activities/programs, and continue to have a negative impact on the stock market, including trading prices of the Company's shares and its ability to raise new capital.

The unaudited condensed interim financial statements were approved and authorized for issue on September 27, 2022 by the Board of Directors of the Company.

2. Basis of preparation

(a) Statement of compliance

These condensed interim financial statements, including comparatives, have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standards (“IAS”) 34, “Interim Financial Reporting” using accounting policies consistent with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (“IFRIC”).

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not include all the information and disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the Company’s annual financial statements as at and for the 206-day period ended October 31, 2021.

(b) Functional and presentation currency

The functional and presentation currency of the Company is the Canadian dollar.

(c) Measurement basis

The condensed interim financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for where IFRS requires recognition at fair value.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Significant accounting estimate and judgments

The preparation of the condensed interim financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis and may change if new information becomes available. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in future periods if the revision affects both the current and future periods.

Significant assumptions about the future and other sources of estimation uncertainty that management has made at the financial position reporting date, that could result in a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities, in the event that actual results differ from assumptions made, relate to, but are not limited to, the following:

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Critical accounting estimate:

i. Share-based payments

To estimate expenses for share-based payments, it is necessary to select an appropriate valuation model and obtain the inputs necessary for the valuation model chosen. The Company estimated the volatility of shares of similar companies and the expected life and the exercise period of warrants granted. The model used by the Company is the Black-Scholes valuation model.

ii. Provisions and contingent liabilities

The judgment is used to determine whether a past event has created a liability that should be recorded in the condensed interim financial statements or whether it should be presented as a contingent liability. The quantification of these liabilities involves judgments and estimates.

These judgments and estimates are based on several factors, such as the nature of the claim or dispute, legal procedures and the potential amount to be paid, legal advice obtained and the likelihood of the realization of a loss.

Critical accounting judgments:

i. Going concern

The assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, raise sufficient funds to pay for its ongoing operating expenditures, meet its liabilities for the ensuing year and fund planned and contractual exploration and evaluation programs, involves judgments including expectation of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

ii. Impairment of Exploration and evaluation assets

Exploration and evaluation assets shall be assessed for an impairment test when facts and circumstances suggest that their carrying value may exceed recoverable amount. To determine indications of impairment of exploration and evaluation assets require significant judgment. Management considers various factors including but not limited to financial and human resources available, exploration budgets, importance and results of exploration work done previously, industry and economic trends and price of minerals.

iii. The determination of whether it is likely that future taxable profits will be available to utilize against any deferred tax assets

(b) New standards issued but not yet effective

Certain new accounting standards and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for the current period and have not been early adopted. These standards are not expected to have a material impact on the Company in the current or future reporting periods.

8. Financial instrument and financial risk

The Company's financial instruments include cash, subscription receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities. The carrying value of these instruments approximates their fair values due to the relatively short periods of maturity of these instruments.

Fair value of financial instruments

IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosures, establishes a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1 - quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 - inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and

Level 3 - inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

As at July 31, 2022, there are no Company's financial assets measured at fair value.

Financial risk management objectives and policies:

The Company's financial instruments include cash, amounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities. The risks associated with these financial instruments and the policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. Management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented in a timely and effective manner.

(i) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risks consist principally of cash. To minimize the credit risk on cash, the Company places the instrument with a high credit quality financial institution.

(ii) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

Liquidity risk management serves to maintain a sufficient amount of cash and to ensure that the Company has financing sources such as private placements for a sufficient amount.

Contractual maturities of accounts payable and accrued liabilities are less than one year.

In the current period, the Company has financed its acquisitions of exploration and evaluation assets and working capital needs through private financings consisting of issuance of common shares. Management estimates that the cash as at July 31, 2022 will be sufficient to meet the Company's needs for cash during the coming year (see Note 1).
